UN ELEFANTE CAMINABA An Elephant Was Walking

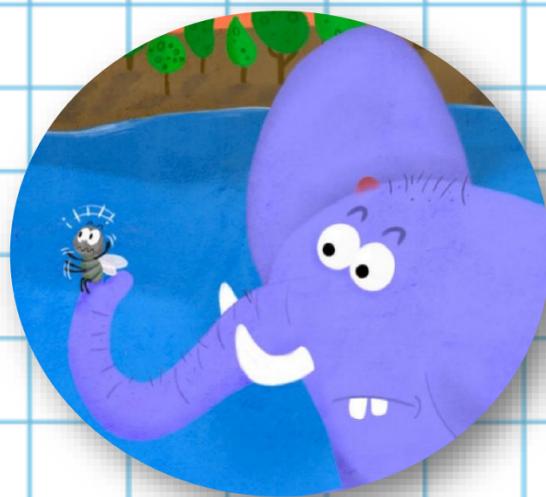

What everyone called "too much" was exactly enough to be a hero, and to finally find where he belongs!

A lonely elephant's thundering footsteps—¡Pum! ¡Pum!—make the earth tremble. Desperate for friendship, he's rejected by every animal he meets: "You're too big! Leave us alone!"

But when an arrogant meerkat's raft sinks mid-river and cries for help, the elephant doesn't hesitate. He leaps in and uses his powerful trunk to save her life.

On the other shore, they discover a herd of elephants just like him. The humbled meerkat smiles: "This looks like the beginning of a beautiful friendship."

- Children will learn that differences aren't problems to be fixed but strengths waiting for the right context and how prejudice stems from fear and inconvenience, not truth.
- This colorful picture book appeals to children seeking acceptance and those learning to be more inclusive!

—¡Cuidado dónde pisas grandullón! ¿No ves que estamos aquí abajo? —gritó muy enfadada la hormiga reina.
—Lo siento amigas hormigas, me aburro. ¿Queréis jugar conmigo?

Asombrado el elefante respondió:
—Lo siento señora pájaro, me aburro y busco amigos. ¿Quieres jugar conmigo?

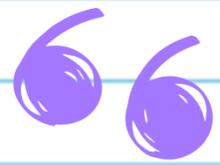

—¡Pero qué dices! ¿Cómo voy a jugar contigo? Estoy cuidando mis huevos, además eres gigante y romperás mi nido. ¡Cambia de camino y déjame en paz!

Al cruzar a la otra orilla del río, encontraron una manada de elefantes, y a una preciosa elefanta tan grande como él.

—Vaya, elefante. Esto parece el principio de una hermosa amistad. ¿No crees? —aseguró la suricata.

—¡Brrraaaahh! —barritó el elefante muy feliz.
